

Other Computer Science CSCI 1380 Computer Science I An introduction to computer science and computer programming is given, in which the fundamentals of a high-level programming language will be introduced. Methods of problem solving, techniques of algorithmic development and concepts of structured object-oriented programming will be emphasized. For degree programs requiring a three hour course in computer science. Two hours will fulfill Computer Literacy Core requirement. 3.000 Credit hours 3.000 Lecture hours 0.000 Lab hours Undergraduate Lecture Concurrent enrollment or credit for MATH 1314 or higher level mathematics course. None COSC-1336 None None Core Int/Exp Lrng-090, Degree Elective, CS Instruction Fee - LU